Dear members and friends of the Husserl Circle, the 51th Meeting of the Husserl Circle, originally scheduled for 2020 and canceled because of Covid-19, will be held in Washington, D.C., at The Catholic University of America, under the auspices of its School of Philosophy.

It will take place on May 31-June 3, 2022.

We are working in the hope and under the assumption that the conference will take place in person.

Hybrid participation (that is, the possibility of giving a talk in remote to the audience gathered at Catholic U) will be only offered to speakers upon individual request for Covid-related reasons.

If made unavoidable by the spread of Covid, the conference will take place online and a link will be provided on the Husserl Circle webpage. An announcement in this regard will be made a few weeks before the conference starts.

The final version of the program will be published on the Husserl Circle website over the next few weeks. Priority has been given to the original 2020 speakers.

We are in need of commentators for the papers, so please consider being one.

If you are interested, reach out to me at averchi@cua.edu.

Most of the speakers have already confirmed the final title of their paper, which you can find here under. You can let me know if you want to comment on a particular paper.

For hotels, I recommend the ones close to NoMA Gallaudet station on the red metro line (see list here under). From NoMa Gallaudet it is an approximately 10-15 minutes ride to Catholic U (stop: Catholic University-Brookland), a 7 minutes ride to Capitol Hill and the National Mall (stop: Judiciary Square), a 10-15 minutes ride to downtown (stops: Farragut North or Dupont Circle).
